

The Ride Of Your Life

Tammy Cochran

There's an adventure in us all
That can lead us from the bank
To the waterfall
A leap of faith is what it's called
It is a journey on its own
Simply fueled by the hardened soul
The paths and uncharted roads
And we don't know where it goes
Close your eyes, hold on tight
Better get ready for the ride of your life
We're on the verge, at the edge
Don't fear the fall, I'll be right here by your side
Love's the ticket, stamp your hand
And stand in line for the ride of your life
Love is all your heart demands
Take this once-in-a-lifetime chance
'Cause it may never come again
Oh, baby, take my hand
