

Forever

Tanita Tikaram

Thought I'd call you up
To make you see what's true
But nothing seems quite right
It's like I'm lying back at you

If that's the way it goes
To cut you like it does
For nothing tastes more bitter
Than the fever that you lost

Do you think that love can last forever
Do you think that love can last forever

It's not like people leave
They're really leaving you
It's just a different world
Just a different thing to do

Do you think that love can last forever
Do you think that love can last forever

The more that you see her
The more you fall apart

You thought you were of stronger stuff my friend
A stronger heart my friend
You'd see it to the end
You're still searching in the dark

Do you think that love can last forever
Do you think that love can last forever
Do you think that love can last forever
Forever for you...
