

I Don't Wanna Lose at Love

Tanita Tikaram

You don't want to do too much
Staring at the evening sun
Maybe you cannot stand up
But you have become one

I just want to see her smile
Maybe she will never hurt
And all that I have yearned to touch,
Well, I have made worse

Is she all you need?
Ah, you fools first agreed

I don't want to spoil your game
Every day is bound to change
Making every move seem
Wise in her dark eyes

No, I don't want to be the clown
Making like I've seen too much
When everything from here is down
I am the head-rush

Is she all you need?
Would you steal from me?
Is she all you see?

And the sky, the sky,
The sky is shining the sky,
The sky is mine

Now I don't want to lose at love
Maybe you would take the chance
Struggling in another's world
I'm just losing at once

Is she all you need? (she all you need?)
She's been too far, too far from me
And she's all, all, all, that you see
Yea, the sky, the sky is mine
Yea, the sky, the sky is mine

I don't want to lose at love
I don't want to lose at love
Now, the sky, the sky was mine
Yeah the sky was mine the sky,
The sky was mine the sky was mine
I don't want to lose at love
I don't want to lose at love
I don't want to lose at love
I don't want to lose at love
