

My Love

Tanita Tikaram

I'm standing on the edge the edge of sanity
all I feel is emptiness my mind will never mourn in peace

After all the tears
through all the years I'm still by your side in the land we cry
after all the faiths
beyond the lies
when you want the best?
if only?

I must admire
my mind today

You will never understand

my pain my suffering if only you could feel what your hate does to me my will to you is weaker every day to behave you all right to close my eyes
And now the time has come for me to face the end of my misery

? of mercy carry me away

you name it sadness
you cannot explain
the sign of?
I try so far to change
I try to realize
? I know

All life must die
my life still change
or stop today
all my dreams are lost
