

Fall Down

Tantric

Look into the fountain
Throw a dime to make a wish
Cause Ive been climbing up a mountain
Of this life I do persist

Im a veteran of this war
I have not begun to fight
Ive not even touched the surface
Of the things that I just might

And if I fall down
Ill pick myself up so I dont hit the ground, now
I am still alive but dont know how, I
Found a way to take another breath of life
When Ive been living with so much regret

Show me how to rise from nothing
And make something of your life
God gave me this gift for something
So I will not be contrive
Look into my eyes, they are windows to my soul
And the pain that makes me interesting is a way of letting go

So if I fall down
Ill pick myself up so I dont hit the ground, now
I am still alive but dont know how, I
Found a way to take another breath of life
When Ive been living with so much regret

I can tame myself from ashes
To be brighter than before I dont really want to crash this, thats some party have thrown Ive been pushed into the corner I have nothing left to lose
Theres a darker side inside me and its one you cant abuse

So if I fall down
Ill pick myself up so I dont hit the ground, now
I am still alive but dont know how, I
Found a way to take another breath of life
When Ive been living

And if I fall down
Ill pick myself up so I dont hit the ground, now
I am still alive but dont know how, I
Found a way to take another breath of life
When Ive been living with so much regret
