

Fractured (Everything I Said Was True)

Taproot

Your story only tells one side, it's based on fact, but filled with lies (you'd be rich if each was worth a dime)
I played my part and that's defined, you played the field on bo rrowed time
(and I know that fault was all but mine)
I chose to let you in, you chose to pull away
I jumped right out of my skin, when I heard you say
"Everything I said was true, everything except that I love you" If it's not me, then who? I think I deserve to know, now we're through and through No glory resides inside my mind, at least I never crossed the l ine
(cause I don't need the distraction)
But an angel appeared on your devil's side, nowhere to run nowh ere to hide
(I'm just a nickel with traction)
So should we say goodnight, and give it one more try?
This isn't worth the fight, so let's just say goodbye everything I said was true, everything except I loves you too and if it's not me, it's you! I thought you deserved to know n ow we're through and through Sad to see forethought after me cause, that's not fair put yourself in my shoes and become the fractured one cause I no longer care!
Everything I said was true, everything except that I love you and if it's not me, fuck you! I thought you deserved to know n ow I'm through with you!
