

Game Over

Taproot

Game over now
Anticipating what's been done is done
My contradiction takes away the sun
Evolving sideways back and forth we sway, evolving sideways back and forth we stay
Every once upon a time, when vast apologies were fine
Exit silence and sweep the deck below
Reality's my bitch this time, and yesterday's now history
Outro silence, and I'm on deck alone
Participating inside of this mutiny
Our ship's been hit by less than a mystery
So what's the verdict do we sink or swim
Where I deserve to be, at the helm heading back out to sea
Unanchored in the storm, reminds me of old times before
I'm right here where I need to be
