If only I could show you Just how much I really care Everyday I'm torn apart Not knowing if you're even there Yet again You're a testimony Now and then That a greatness occasionally can come along Wherever I stand You're the one Who'll be right there with me Wherever I land You're the one Who'll be there to break my fall Whether fast or slow If only I could know you So every way I feel A part of something like you always do Yet again You're my sanctuary How and when That a greatness eternally does come along Wherever I stand You're the one Who'll be right there with me Wherever I land You're the one Who'll be there to break my fall Wherever I stand, Wherever I stand You'll be right there with me Wherever I land You're the one Who'll be there to break my fall No matter where No matter how I know that you'll be There by my side It feels so right The sting you share The fact I'm found I know more about What lies inside us gives me life Wherever I stand You're the one Who'll be right there with me

Wherever I land You're the one Who'll be there to break my fall

Wherever I stand,
Wherever I stand
You'll be right there with me
Wherever I land
You're the one