

I Walk Forever

Tarot

Did I leave in time for the words to rhyme,
For her heart to wait ever longing?
I am not the one, neither just for one.
I am made of hopes left unfulfilled.

I walk forever
'Til my road winds up into the sky.
Never needed to learn how to fly.
I walk forever.
'Til my left is hazed into the right.
Getting lost in the shadows of white.

Drawing breath somewhere from the strands of her hair.
I am shaken by the pain of freedom.
When the nights grow still, she will climb this hill.
Silence only on the road beyond.

I walk forever
'Til my road winds up into the sky.
Never needed to learn how to fly.
I walk forever.
'Til my left is hazed into the right.
Getting lost in the shadows of white.

Fading to the grey, still dressed in white.
Tears turn into diamonds by the moonlight.

Dreams won't fade away.

I walk forever
'Til my road winds up into the sky.
Never needed to learn how to fly.
I walk forever.
'Til my left is hazed into the right.
Getting lost in the shadows of white.
