

In My Blood

Tarot

The touch of your body still lingers on my hands
I can feel them burning Like acid, poured down on me, the rains steams off my skin Imaginary visions like broken mirrors, the shards are in my brain
I know you'll be waiting, rolling on the sweaty sheets, waiting for me again and again

The wet dirt grinds between concrete and my feet the voice of my passion gets higher Drowning my senses my blood starts to roar for the need to embrace your fire I race through the alleys and the realms of shame carrying the blazing aura of aggression I used to be free, now I can't think straight you're blinding obsession

In my blood, poison of love veins filled with fire and ice In my blood, dirty love

I remember the sunlight, I hate it now for making my face look so pale There's no more reason behind my actions, I'm a wolf on the same old trail

In my blood...

Eyes turn blind, she whips my mind Enslaved to her needs, she takes my body and she feeds

In my blood...
