

Larger Than Life

Tarrus Riley

The man who thinks he's larger than life
He doesn't even know how he came in existence
The man who thinks he's larger than life
He doesn't even know how he's soul is surviving

He doesn't know
When he came or when he'll go he doesn't care and he thinks he's got things figured out

But when the lightning strike everybody run lightning strike everybody run lightning striking
Thunder rouring

The man who thinks he's larger than life
he doesn't even know how he came in existence
And all your intelects in high praises
you better remember take time out and devices

No you don't know when you came or when you'll go
You don't know
And you think got things figured out when JahJah lightning striking everybody run Lightning strike everybody run

Lightning striking
thunder rouring

Can't run can't hide from the lightning
even the strongest get frightned
can't run can't hide from the lightning
even the strongest get frightned

For you don't know when you came or when you'll go
you don't know
think you've got things figured out

But when the lightning strike everybody run
lightning strike everybody run
lightning striking
Thunder rouring

The man who thinks he's larger than life

And all your intelects in high praises
you better remember take time out and devices he'll never know he never know he'll never cares and all the lightning striking they're all running
lightning striking they're all frightned.....
