Steeltown

Tasmin Archer

Blow in the wind to old steeltown Blow in the wind to turn her around Blow out the flame and dying name This dirty town won't seem the same Blow in the wind to old steeltown And turn her around I never thought I'd see the day What a crying shame Tell me who's to blame Mere words of comfort have no meaning For a dying town That won't lie down Blow in the wind to old steeltown Blow in the wind to turn her around Blow out the flame and dying name This dirty town won't seem the same Blow in the wind to old steeltown And turn her around There comes a time when you must question Were you wrong or right? Can you sleep at night? Too many shattered dreams to answer Without reason or rhyme Where do you draw the line? Blow in the wind to old steeltown Blow in the wind to turn her around Blow out the flame and dying name This dirty town won't seem the same Blow in the wind to old steeltown It couldn't last forever Sign of the times No pleasure Where can we go together? Don't bring me down Don't bring me down Blow in the wind to old steeltown Blow in the wind to turn her around Blow out the flame and dying name This dirty town won't seem the same Blow in the wind to old steeltown And turn her around
