

My Bloody Valentine

Tata Young

Love my love my
I still love my love my

My valentine running rings around me
Hanging by a thread but we're loosening loosening
The sparks were flying not the type that we need
Bringing a fire that is burning me burning me

(I know) Nobody said that it'd be easy
(My heart) That we could find a way, make a way
(But you don't) You don't prioritize me

How am I supposed to believe yours games will never change, ever change

It's such a dirty mess imperfect at it's best but it's
My love my love my bloody valentine
Sometimes I want to leave but then I want you next to me
My love my love my bloody valentine

Maybe I should but still I just can't walk away
Try to convince me once again that I should stay
Through all the brokenness, this bleeding heart must confess
I love my love my bloody valentine

Love my love my
I still love my love my
Bloody valentine

I open doors but you close them on me
I'm compromising, wont you show the same, help the change
Your phone is ringing it says shawty, so tell me
What's her name? How'd she get your number?
Don't try to be playing me

(Cuz I'll know) before you even say anything
(But I hope) you wont lie to me, don't lie to me
(You know) that we've been here before
Oh don't patronize, don't feed me lines
Just change your ways, yeah make it right

It's such a dirty mess imperfect at it's best but it's
My love my love my bloody valentine
Sometimes I want to leave but then I want you next to me
My love my love my bloody valentine

Maybe I should but still I just can't walk away
Try to convince me once again that I should stay
Through all the brokenness, this bleeding heart must confess
I love my love my bloody valentine

Love my love my
I still love my love my
Bloody valentine

Love my love my
I still love my love my
Bloody valentine

It's such a dirty mess imperfect at it's best but it's
My love my love my bloody valentine
Sometimes I want to leave but then I want you next to me
My love my love my bloody valentine

Maybe I should but still I just can't walk away
Try to convince me once again that I should stay
Through all the brokenness, this bleeding heart must confess
I love my love my bloody valentine
