

Love Chain

Taylor Dayne

Another day, another turn and it follows
A lonely girl just wants to heal
I watch the windows as the rain falls into teardrops
Down my cheek

Now everything is beautiful
'Cause everything you bring

Love lives, love gives it all of us
Love chain yourself to me
Love waits, love takes from all of us
Love chain yourself to me

I used to feel so out of place, so in pieces
I used to feel so incomplete
But since you came I see a way, an open window
A chance my happiness is real

So now everything is beautiful
'Cause everything you bring

Love lives, love gives it all of us
Love chain yourself to me
Love waits, love takes from all of us
Love chain yourself to me

You can hide away at night
A liver, lost and lonely life
Give nothing back but take what you need

For I have seen a better way
And I am learning day by day
You got to give to learn to receive

Love lives, love gives it all of us
Love chain yourself
Love waits, love takes from all of us
Love chain yourself

Love lives, love gives it all of us
Love chain yourself to me
Love waits, love takes from all of us
Love chain yourself to me
