

Burnt Letters

Taylor Henderson

I'm tired, so tired
Lay down in my empty bed
And I just don't know how to be alone

This fire, this fire
Burnt letters and a broken pen
'Cause I just don't know how to be alone

'Cause every time I do
It leads me back to you

I need you, you know me
I don't give love out everyday
Believe me

I'm writing, still trying
Words dry and there's nothing left
And I just don't know how to find a home

You're highest, Messiah
Pedestal and I see no end
'Cause I just don't know how to find a home

But every word is true
It comes right back to you

I need you, you know me
I don't give love out everyday
Believe me
I need you, you know me
I'd give everything for you
For you

And I remember the day I fell into your love
And I remember the way we fell out
And I remember the day I fell into your love
And I remember the way we fell out

I need you, you know me
I don't give love out everyday
Believe me
I need you, you know me
I'd give everything for you
For you
For you
