

Matter Of Time

Taylor Henderson

Old friend, tell me did you mend,
or are you still lookin' for a lover.
A little rose hiding in the snow,
Waiting in the arms of another.

Come down to the little old town
where we first found out about each other.
I spent a while being in denial,
And I don't wanna lie any longer.
Any longer.

The longer I wait, it wears me down.
Don't wanna lose what I have found.
It's a matter of ti- i- i- i- ime.
The longer I wait, it wears me down.
Don't wanna lose what I have found.
It's a matter of ti- i- i- i- ime.
It's a matter of time.
Oooh oh.

Saw a flame burning just the same like it did on the day that I meant ya.
One light in the middle of the night,
you're the one that I'm trying to get to.

Come down to the little old town,
where we still have more to discover.
I spent a while trynna fake this smile,
and I don't wanna wait any longer.
Any longer.

The longer I wait, it wears me down.
Don't wanna lose what I have found.
It's a matter of ti- i- i- i- ime.
The longer I wait, it wears me down.
Don't wanna lose what I have found.
It's a matter of ti- i- i- i- ime.
It's a matter of time.
Oooh it's a matter of time.

A sweet ray of sunshine,
is coming around the bend.
And I'm ready for your love again.

The longer I wait, it wears me down.
Don't wanna lose what I have found.
It's a matter of ti- i- i- i- ime.
The longer I wait, it wears me down.
Don't wanna lose what I have found.
It's a matter of ti- i- i- i- ime.
It's a matter of time.
