Taylor Henderson

I'm picking up just where you left off
I know you think you're not enough
Tears are trapped right behind those eyes
Your words are caught in tongue-ties

So break me down
When you hit the ground
I'll be by your side

When you're lying awake
You know I'm losing sleep
When I can't hold the weight
I know you'll carry me
When you can't catch a break
Your luck's on me
Whenever you're down
I will build you
Piece by piece by piece
Piece by piece by piece

When I'm caught in their make believe
Under water and I can't breathe
You know I nearly went and lost myself
Trying to be somebody else

So break me down
When you hit the ground
I'll be by your side

When you're lying awake
You know I'm losing sleep
When I can't hold the weight
I know you'll carry me
Your luck's on me
Whenever you're down
I will build you
Piece by piece by piece

I will build you
Piece by piece by piece
I will build you
Piece by piece by piece
Oh darling

When you're lying awake
You know I'm losing sleep
When I can't hold the weight
I know you'll carry me
