Daddy's All Gone

James Taylor

I don't have much to say Thought I'd call you up anyway Just to try to show you the way That I feel today Oh, I miss you, baby

I sure am on the road I don't need to say much more Just the same old well-known stranger That I was before It seems like yesterday now

Daddy's all gone Only half way home He's holding on to the telephone Saying, please, don't let the show go on

There's a bus every other hour There's even the midnight train But that don't leave me the power To see your face again It's not that simple

You see, there's a room full of smiling faces There's a man standing by the door Says it's time to change our places And get down on the floor Kill 'em, baby

Daddy's all gone He's just half way home He's holding on to the microphone Singing, please, don't make the show go on