Last Sad Song

Tech N9ne

I really need to get up outta this hole (man)
I'm really really sinking deep down in this hole
And I need to get out of this shit
I'm serious
I really wanna go into the light man
I, I know you all love me to be sad and shit, but
This gotta be my last sad song dude, I mean
I gotta get out of this shit before I lose myself in it

Don't you pity me no no just pray for me
That this will be the last sad song I have to sing
And only time will tell if you'll stand here with me
And this will be the last sad song I have to sing

Ehh
You all know my mothers sickness
You all know I'm breakin down
You all know in my cirlce the devils steady makin rounds
You all know I'm missing my children because I'm shakin towns
And you all love my music and how sad I can make it sound
I'm in the darkness so low I'm under the carpet
Whom ever wants me to park it you motherfuckers is heartless
They want me stuck with hardships want an unhappy atrist
But I'm gonna break apart of this K.O.D shit regardless
Of who's mad a lot of my shit is too sad
Like the death of Micheal Jackson
Motherfucker who's bad
To jump right up out of myself
This shits a fight on my health
But darkness is selling
But I really wanna put yall some light on the shelf
Will you still be
Able to feel me
Even if I'm not talkin about trying to kill me
The king of darkness can no long conceal me
This could be my last sad song
Hopin it will be

Don't you pity me no no just pray for me
That this will be the last sad song I have to sing
And only time will tell if you'll stand here with me
And this will be the last sad song I have to sing
