

Brighton Beach

Télépopmusik

We were just half friends
Occupying in the light
Sometimes Brighton Beach
Sometimes half awake

Thought we'd share this song
'til I heard you gave the line
To another girl with the sparkle in her eyes

Why can't you go find yourself
And make me want to know you?
Why can't you go find yourself
And make me want to show you?

Oh, I listen to your stories
I smile when you take a break
But the dark is working overtime
Can you just see me melt?

What are we thinking here?
Pretender is so close
Think we're something special
Well, I'm giving up the ghost

Why can't you go find yourself
And make me want to know you?
Why can't you go find yourself
And make me want to show you?
