

It's Better To Have Loved

Temposhark

You didn't wait for me to help you out
I would've stayed to clear those final doubts
How suddenly the whole world can change overnight
How suddenly the whole world calls your name

And I find myself questioning all that I have done
And I'm trying to press the button to rewind
And I find myself whispering 'There's more I could have done'
And I wish I had the option to rewind

Is it better to have loved than not at all?
Is it better to have loved than not at all?

I'm not the same; it feels like I'm missing out
The sky has drained now I must live without
How suddenly the whole world can change overnight
How suddenly the whole world sings your name

And I find myself questioning all that I have done
And I'm trying to press the button to rewind
And I find myself whispering 'God, what have you done?'
And I wish I had the option to rewind

Is it better to have loved than not at all?
Is it better to have loved than not at all?
Is it better to have loved than not at all?
Is it better to have loved than not at all?

And I find myself thinking; I hope I can inspire
Those subtleties you taught me to admire

Is it better to have loved than not at all?
It's better to have loved than not at all...
