

Yours To Lose

Ten Second Epic

I see your eyes
I know they're saying something I sympathize
We've all been through the hardest times
We won't stop second guessing
We lived our lives
We kill them too
It's true

(the night is hard?)
I've got the best of you
for all these years

And if you already know
then why do you keep asking
And if you already know
then why don't you just let me go
And if you already know the time
it's time for everyone to know the truth
Then you already know that I won't find I'm through with you cause I'm yours to lose

I see your hands They're used to holding someone so tightly gripped you can't let go You're overwhelmed underappreciated
but more afraid to be alone

Were moving closer and that the reason why I'm not coming home and you can't sleep tonight You're lipstick washes it washes clean but all the guilty pangs won't rinse away It's here to stay its true

(the night is hard?)

then why don't you just let me go
And if you already know the time
Then I won't find I'm through with you
cause I'm yours to lose

But you don't stop giving up when there's no sign of hope That makes you strong enough to find the (truth?)
A person you believe in

You don't stop giving up
You know that people never change Hang tough
It'll be the same

my heart belongs to every girl but you
and then you already know I'm yours to lose
Yours to lose
