

Everything

Ten Sharp

I often stare
Stare into the blue and I
Watch the waves roll by a never ending view
And I hope
That somehow I will break a wave
Convince you that my love will be a constant flow

Through your eyes I see the world
You make me see what's good of it to know

You mean everything, everything to me
You make me forget myself
You mean everything, everything to me
You and no one else, no one else

As you fell out of the sky
Who'll break down your defenses
Let me hold you for a while
And bring me to my senses
Let me hold you

Everything to me
You make me forget myself
You mean everything, everything to me
You and no one else
No one else
No one else
