

Barricade

Ten

This surge of emotion breaks Rule One
Exposes and opens my renaissance
Defences are broken and undone
I'm slave to the motion I've burned for so long

This seed of desire transforming sin
Through screams of denial so deafening
That close to the fire this cool bomb
Implodes and defiles
She's turning me on

I've seen the lighting now I'm waiting for the thunder
For I'm imprisoned by the spell she has me under

Burn this city to the ground sweet baby
Take this giant leap of faith
Crush this cynics that surround me baby
Reach out don't speak
Tear down this barricade

I can't look away now, there's too much pull
As thought from a notion turns chemical
It's lust and desire, a pure drug
She feeds my emotion, I can't get enough

I'm climbin' a mountain, the highest yet
I'm walkin a wire, no safety yet
She knows that I want her, I'm so lost
I just gotta have her
To hell with the cost

I've seen the lighting now I'm waiting for the thunder
For I'm imprisoned by the spell she has me under
