Ten

This surge of emotion breaks Rule One Exposes and opens my renaissance Defences are broken and undone I'm slave to the motion I've burned for so long

This seed of desire transforming sin Through screams of denial so deafening That close to the fire this cool bomb Implodes and defiles She's turning me on

I've seen the lighting now I'm waiting for the thunder For I'm imprisoned by the spell she has me under

Burn this city to the ground sweet baby Take this giant leap of faith Crush this cynics that surround me baby Reach out don't speak Tear down this barricade

I can't look away now, there's too much pull As thought from a notion turns chemical It's lust and desire, a pure drug She feeds my emotion, I can't get enough

I'm climbin' a mountain, the highest yet I'm walkin a wire, no safety yet
She knows that I want her, I'm so lost
I just gotta have her
To hell with the cost

I've seen the lighting now I'm waiting for the thunder For I'm imprisoned by the spell she has me under
