

Black Hearted Woman

Ten

She doesn't need love potions, number five, number nine
She's what my sole desire for revenge design
Born of such pain
Inconsolable blame
Lies scattered like the pieces of a dream
Blood from my veins brings my venomous strain to life...

So now the only solution is an eye for an eye
There can be no retribution in this web of lies
The murderous quest I refined without test
I'm ready now the battle can begin
The merciless test for my angel of death tonight...

She is the devil, she's the black hearted woman
I made her slender fingers cut like knives
For nothing tears a man apart like a woman
She'll shoot you dead, she needs no alibis.

Now there can be no protection from what can be denied
You can't refuse or reject her she's the perfect crime
Driving like the rain, she's a runaway train
She's burning but the flames are within
Evil unchained, my untouchable reigns tonight...

She is the devil, she's the black hearted woman
I made her slender fingers cut like knives
For nothing tears a man apart like a woman
She'll shoot you dead, she needs no alibis.

She is the devil, she's the black hearted woman
I cloaked a killer with a thin disguise
For nothing tears a man apart like a woman
You'll go to hell and think it's paradise
Tonight

She is the devil, she's the black hearted woman
I made her slender fingers cut like knives
For nothing tears a man apart like a woman
She'll shoot you dead, she needs no alibis.
Tonight