

Bright On The Blade

Ten

Can you hear me? Screaming from the cold, I' m asking
Do you feel me ? Deep in the afterglow
Can you see me ? High above my soul unmasking
The spirit shown to the world below,
So many nights, so many days,
Watching the nightmares unfold
So many sights, so many ways,
So much beyond our control

Can you hear me? Setting off a chain reaction
Do you feel me? Flesh and bone,
Can you see me? It's an animal attraction
The spirit calling you home.

So many nights, so many days
That life was taking it's toll
So many sights, so many ways
To make the pieces the whole

No since a man made the conquest of eden
Has there been more to revere or be gained
Now is the time you must fight for your freedom
Building their eyes with your light bright on the blade.
Can you hear me? Echoing fom every canyon
Do you feel me? Leading you on Can you see me? Mirrored as my soul companion
The spirit favours the one

So many nights, so many days,
To be a rock, not to roll
So many sights, so many ways,
To come in out of the cold

No since a man made the conquest of eden
Has there been more to revere or be gained
Now is the time you must fight for your freedom
Building their eyes with your light bright on the blade.

No since a man made the conquest of eden
Has there been more to revere or be gained
Now is the time you must fight for your freedom
Building their eyes with your light bright on the blade.

No since a man made the conquest of eden
Has there been more to revere or be gained
Now is the time you must fight for your freedom
Building their eyes with your light bright on the blade
