

I listen to the sound of my world in flames,
It echoes and resounds as my heart proclaims
The life I live will never be the same,

I listen to the sound as the pouring rain,
Emotionally drowns every open vein,
The additive, the chemical remains,

Exhume my heart, restore this work of art,
For what we are, is "in love"
Believe again

You cast a spell on me, you mesmerise,
You set my soul alight,
Now I can't escape the curse,
You have become what I had prophesised,
You have become tonight,
Centre Of My Universe

Centre Of my Universe

The arrow hit my heart but I felt no pain,
The spirits and the ghosts of the past now fade,
The narrative, a whispered serenade,

We learn to trust our hearts to the hands of fate,
But we can have it all and it's not too late,
The bond is sealed and cannot separate,

Exhume my heart, restore this work of art,
For what we are, is "in love"
Believe again

You cast a spell on me, you mesmerise,
You set my soul alight,
Now I can't escape the curse,
You have become what I had prophesised,
You have become tonight,
Centre Of My Universe
Centre Of my Universe