

Hallowed Ground

Ten

Beneath the sands of the desert,
Trapped in my slumberless tomb,
I lie interned here forever,
Wrapped in my motherless womb.
When life's umbilical served,
The flesh from every bone and sinew was skinned.
Hell, I was held down tethered,
All in the name of my sins...

I spat and cursed my aggressors,
I swore with every last breath,
I'd damn their bloodline successors
To slow and agonised deaths.
But centuries under pressure
Have forced the tidal desert ocean to turn,
What I unleach is forever,
I'll see that lessons get learnt...

Dusk 'till dawn...
Now the seal is broken by the visions of time.
What has spawned
Will live forever...

Born, you are victims of time for the prophecy to
chart,
I've bled too long in this hallowed ground.
Torn, your heart beats in my head while I tear your
soul apart,
(I've) been dead too long in this hallowed ground...

See the sacred flame's incanation
Has lit the pyres of fate,
Through this aligned constellation,
A time of vengeance and hate,
They look the light and my treasures,
They suffocated, desecrated my soul,
So in disdain for their pleasures
I'll let the terrors unfold...

Dusk 'till dawn...
Now the seal is broken by the visions of time.
What has spawned
Will live forever...

Born, you are victims of time for the prophecy to
chart,
I've bled too long in this hallowed ground.
Torn, your heart beats in my head while I tear your
soul apart,
(I've) been dead too long in this hallowed ground...
