

Heart Like A Lion

Ten

As a midnight breeze from a silent cove Flickers candles through the night
You look to the ocean in the depths of your soul for a torch to light
Through the restless eaves of your Cliffside home Its whispers in echoes from the beach to the coast as you close your eyes

Where do you run to now?
You're all alone at night
Who can you turn to now?
Until the dawn arrives

Until now, this heart like a lion
Has faced the storm when broken dreams have scarred its endless flight
For until now, this heart like a lion
Has chased the dawn across the sea of love's relentless
tides
The fire still burns so bright
This heart like a lion

As the hour chimes out to an empty room
You are barefoot in the fields
You run from the shadows by the light of the moon as your senses reel
To your sacred cliffs looking out to sea, this the lovers rendezvous Touched by the ocean with the wind in your hair in the light of truth

Where do you run to now?
You're all alone at night
Who can you turn to now?
Until the dawn arrives

Until now, this heart like a lion
Has faced the storm when broken dreams have scarred its
endless flight
For until now, this heart like a lion
Has chased the dawn across the sea of love's relentless
tides
The fire still burns so bright
This heart like a lion