

Desire burning in my mind
Like a firefly lighting up the sky
My heart is aglow
I feel you burning up my soul
I'm a shipwreck
A sailor lost at sea
You're a tidal wave
And you're crashing over me
I'm caught in your current and I'm sinking
But drowning peacefully
Well I'm crying out come rescue me with love
Like a child needs a night light in the dark
Lord, light me up I'm lovesick for just one touch
You're all I need but you never seem to be enough
I'm Romeo, desperate for your love
I'd scale these garden walls just to see the rising sun
But see what light breaks softly through
It's love that I never knew
