Drivin' Me Crazy

Terence Trent D'Arby

Please excuse me as I go insane And metamorphisize into the rain I see pools of fate I think they call your eyes I guess that my reaction`s no surprise

You`re drivin' me crazy Because you won`t be my baby There`s space for you in my reality To merge with your vibration peacefully I see laughter as a rainbow from the heart And then I think of you and fall apart You`re drivin' me crazy Because you won't be my baby

I see symphonies in motion when you breathe How can I make you see what I believe? You`re drivin' me crazy Because you won't be my baby
