Injustice

Terminal Choice

We are living in a world of hate and fear Is this really our destiny? Is there nothing we can do To prevent the ultimate end of time In every human being Exists the seed of evil And every day some of them try To keep it down

We have to fight against injustice Try to understand It's not the way we want to live We want to resist We have to fight against injustice Try to understand We have to break the chains tonight This will be our chance

There are always some human beings Born to infiltrate Our wonderful life Spreading the seeds of evil They lead us in the wrong direction They want to gain The ultimate power Using us for their plans
