

Watching, Wasting, Waiting

Terminal

Watching you taking your time
Wasting mine just waiting on you
Misery might keep me hanging around
If you're never gonna let me live this down

Every train I take, stops the same place
Right where you are

It's been a long time but I hear
You don't wander far
From lonesome hours at the bar
Call to ask me why I never come around
When are you gonna let me live this down?

I was tired of lying alone for you
So I became a desert to your raining
Finding myself in the sun
I became a desert to your raining
'Cause I don't want to be the one

Watching you taking your time
Wasting mine just waiting on you
You always keep me hanging around
You're never gonna let me live this down