We built a little playhouse with a front porch swing A white picket fence, the American dream Step by step, stone by stone And now you're tellin' me that you wanna be alone The walls are fallin' all around me now You wanna....

Tear it all down

Tear it all down

You're rippin' out what we put up

Demolishing this house of love

Tear it all down

Tear it all down

When your soul foundation cracks

It's hard to put the pieces back

When you tear it all down

Before this thing crumbles, you better think it through 'Cause you're gonna have to live with what you can't undo

Day by day, night after night
The truth is gonna hit you right between the eyes
You're gonna see the wreckage all around
When you....

Step by step, stone by stone We built this house into a home For you to.....
