

What Happens in Vegas (Follows You Home)

Terri Clark

I never really liked this place hard to tell the nights from days lost inside a smoky maze, with no last call...

You walked up , I turned around,
You were drinking something watered down Maybe I don't hate this town, after all

Could sin city save us could Lady luck wave us on through the velvet rope
The whispers in my ear, said everything stays here
But we know something they don't Sometimes What Happens in Vegas....
Follows you home
Follows you home

It's just a state of mind and crossing that Nevada line I thought I'd never find my wildest dream, I almost had to live without, now neon lights are washing out any shadow of a doubt, and I believe

Sin City saved us Lady Luck waved us
On through the velvet rope
The whispers in my ear said everything stays here
but we know something they don't
Sometimes What Happens in Vegas....
Follows you home
Follows you home

Among the false promises, glitter and phoniness, somehow we've found the real thing....
