

The Feelings That We Lost

Terry Jacks

I heard you saying something this morning
About the way I've been treating you
And all the times I've been making you cry
I'm not saying it's not true

But we've been here now for quiet wild lives
And I've been thinking it's time to leave
I don't feel good now
Without you smile
You're not happy here with me

And like the seasons that come between us
And like the bridges we never crossed
Like the love that's slowly dying
From the feelings that we lost

And if I'm not back when it's summer
And if I'm not here in the fall
If I'm still gone when the snows on
Then i won't come back at all

And if you miss me
Don't try to find me
Cause I'll be looking to find my self
And I'll be long gone when the snow is on
Maybe with somebody else

And like the seasons that come between us
And like the bridges we never crossed
Like the love that's slowly dying
From the feelings that we lost

And if you miss me
Don't try to find me
Cause I'll be looking to find my self
And I'll be long gone when the snow is on
Maybe with somebody else

And like the seasons that come between us
And like the bridges we never crossed
Like the love that's slowly dying
From the feelings that we lost
