

Look @ Me

Tesla

I'll never break your heart, now tell me, would you break mine
Rewind, and clean the slate, wipe away the hard times
I never did forsake you , and I never would
I got away from the common ground, just because I could

There was a shadow, following me around
Somehow, I lost my way, that was then
Take a look @ me now

For everything in life, there is a reason
Sometimes the reason I do, may be not so good

Seems like my time away took me one step closer to a suicide
Spun around like the discs I played
Holdin' court with the losers, and the crucified
A shining example of what you never wanna be
They found me tits-up, drowning in a wishin' well
With no apology

Me, and my shadow, nobody else around
Somehow, I lost my way, that was then
Take a look @ me now

For everything in life, there is a reason
Sometimes the reason I do, may be not so good
Feels like the time is right, for getting' back to even
You are the reason I do, ain't that enough for you

For everything in life, there is a reason
Sometimes the reason I do, may be not so good
Feels like the time is right, for getting' back to even
You are the reason I do, ain't that enough for you
Ain't that enough for you, you're the reason I do
Ain't that enough for you, take a look @ me now
