

Sympathy

Tesla

If you could understand my pain
Then all my cries would never be in vain
If you would recognize my footprints and bloodstains
Then everything would change
You can say it all in a million ways without a word

Have some mercy on me
A little sympathy
Are you listening?
Can you hear my screams?
Does your heart still beat
While you watch me freeze in your cold disease
Can you hear my screams?

Tell me now could you even comprehend
All these messages I'm trying to send
Show me how all this misery could end
Turn it all around and be my friend
You can say it all in a million ways without a word
