What's Your Damage

Test Icicles

Did you ever think about the words
Coming out your mouth people
Don't listen, No, they just don't turn around
A useless sound
You keep saying more
It means less to me
Is it that you're so deaf
That you just can't see?

So you stop and take a look around
Something will get you off the ground
You try...Do you even know why?
Well it's hard to say, But I'm pretty sure Cos' last time I checked
Everything seemed to be in place

Did you ever think
That you're so alone?
You better stop and think
Before it's all over

Please be quiet so I can sleep tonight
What should I do when nothing is right?
Man, I just don't know...

If you never learned to read what the signs say,
How do you know you're going the right way?

Well, it's hard to say if it's not an act
I can't keep my distance,
Everything turns to black
I've left myself open to attack

Did you ever think
That all the things you say
Sound so naive?

Please shut up so I can sleep tonight
What am I supposed to do
When nothing feels right

fk

Did you ever – think think think think think
I really don't think
You ever think
