

Stupidity Overgrowth

Thalidomide

There's something wrong and people just go along.
It seems that world have gone insane.
Everyone hunts after tangible wealth.
And I? I rather abstain.

Stupidity has overgrown,
it became a major trait
followed by omnipresent indifference, violence, also aggression and blind faith.

I don't know neither who to trust,
nor what to believe anymore.
Don't you see what's happening and don't you see what for?

Because I do!

I'm puzzled by the world
rotten to its core.
I'm trying to keep clear of this and fight,
fight my own war.

I'm against idiocy
in these days becoming norm, becoming lore!

Almighty Lore!

Stupidity has overgrown,
It became a major threat.
Let's give those jerks power to rule our world.
Let's become brainwashed living dead.
Is it what you want?
