

As the shadows vanish in light
As the sun's rays banish the night
I awake in abject fright
Yesterday I fought for my kingdom

To survive and reap all rewards
To the victor go all the spoils
On the field we met with a roar
As the klaxons howled out our orders

Far from the fight
Beyond the night
Glory awaits those who stand
With conviction and might

I sailed to these foreign shores
Fought for my king
And I hope to be fighting once more
My guiding star shines a light
I'll be the victor tonight

Roar of thunder blackens the sky
Our horsemen passing me by
From above our arrows fly
Decimate the army before us

I have seen men writhing in pain
I have seen them praying in vain
I have cried for all those slain
As the morning breaks, I awaken

Far from the fight
Beyond the night
Glory awaits those who stand
With conviction and might

I sailed to these foreign shores
Fought for my king
And I hope to be fighting once more
My guiding star shines a light
I'll be the victor tonight
