

Summer's Daughter

The 5th Dimension

Once, as I lay cryin', on the ground
She came up to me and let her hair fall down
All over me
And she said the tenderest things
I've ever heard a woman say

She's a flower child, summer's daughter
(She's a summer's daughter)
(Love and sweet?) She's sweet as water
She's a flower child, she's summer's daughter,
I love her

An ant is never crushed beneath her feet
And I've seen sparrows brush against her cheek
'Cause she's so sweet

And she does the tenderest things
I've ever seen a woman do

She's a flower child, summer's daughter
(She's a summer's daughter)
(Love and sweet) She's sweet as water
She's a flower child, she's summer's daughter,
Oh, I love her
