

If You Love Me the Morning After

The 69 Eyes

Remember those times...
There's a secret
You and me
No one knows about it eventually
If you could hold me like you
Used to do
If you could tell me what you
Want me to do
If you love me the morning after
Till the break of the dawn
If you give me the love I'm after
And you
You will be reborn
Everyone's sleeping
But you and me
The moon shines over your
Balcony
If you could tell me
What you want me to do
I would open up those
Gates of you
If you love me the morning after
Till the break of the dawn
If you give me the love I'm after
And you
You will be reborn
Nights are so alone again...
