Got a new revelation Wrote on the wall Ya I got a new inspiration Watching you fall

I put a hole in your pocket
That you never saw
Ya I put a hole in your pocket
You never saw

So now you wanna get back all your love That you say is coming in from above And you promise that you got a new tune Well that's not enough

I got a new concentration Cause you never call Ya I got a new invitation Watching you crawl

So now you wanna get back all your love That you say is coming in from above And you promise that you got a new tune But you never even know what to do

What's the point of talking if that's not enough
