The Unborn Son

The Absence

[Music by Absence, Lyrics by Timo Lehtonen]

This can't be true All I see is ruins I close my eyes And hope this could be undone The further I go Less human I feel This tragic scene Is now reality

No one else did survive No one else left alive

This innocent one Doesn't even get a tomb 'Cos the unborn son Dies into mother's womb

Eerie silence Has filled the air Something so precious Is now forever lost How can they be so blind This way reaching the light Priviledge of misunderstanding Key to their anger never ending
