

Tear That Falls

The Aggrolites

There is a tear that falls Slowly down your face I'm so happy to see the teardrop falling Finally in the right place And as the sun don't shine I'll keep on holding on to you And as the wind still blows I'll hold you in my arms all night through

So don't, don't you worry 'Cause I will be right here Holding you by my side

Years go by As if they were days I still love you baby In so many ways Dark keeps knocking but dangers can't come in I'll still get you in the mood my darling Just tell me when Ohh, so don't, don't you worry 'Cause I will be right here Hold in you by my side
