The Alchemist

Situated in the present alive in the moment of now separated from attachment
- gone but not forgotten what is meant to be inevitably will be, destiny a force rather than an outcome of events my point of change is on the horizon, what brought it together now took it away chapters open, chapters close, opportunities rise and fall like an everlasting circle
My memory still plays the events
Affection is a state of mind.
My mind is altered.
Emptiness is eventually filled,
The universe unfolds
- things shall be as they are.
Although I often deviate I always return to me.
Many paths are marked for us
