The Alchemist

We offer you the key to your spirituality
The answer that links us to our eternity
The difference that's a lie between yourself and all you see
But this does not convince you, you lust technology

Unite the earth

Gods have failed us all along it was a farce
And all along you knew but refused the help of visitors
A concept that would boom higher intelligence
Was kept a secret from us for a minorities profits

But praising God won't save the world Only praise of human kind

You close your eyes and place demise This forgotten entity Fabricated stories, protect your former glories

Time is soon at hand They covered, you'll be revealed Exposing your whole lifestyle Nothing but a lie
