Sunshine

The All-american Rejects

It's a new day It's a bright day Even when you stand in the dark It's just that You've been broken into fifty pieces Today is gone I'm the only light that you see You need someone I know all you needed was me

Everyday we wake if it takes too long Just tell me something new Forget about the sunshine when it's gone

Another pale moon Shines like high noon Midnight never felt so cold alone It's just that you're uneasy When you need me Today is gone I'm the only light that you see You need someone I know all you needed was me

Everyday we wake if it takes too long Just tell me something new Forget about the sunshine when it's gone You can say it's right, but it feels so wrong Just show me something true Forget about the sunshine Forget about the sunshine when it's gone

Today is gone I'm the only light that you see You need someone I know all you needed was me

Everyday we wake if it takes too long Just tell me something new Forget about the sunshine when it's gone You can think it's right, but it feels so wrong Just show me something true Forget about the sunshine Forget about the sunshine when it's gone

Everyday we wake if it takes too long Just tell me something new Forget about the sunshine when it's gone You can think it's right, but it feels so wrong Just show me something true Forget about the sunshine Forget about the sunshine when it's gone
